

BIBLICAL ECONOMICS

THE MINISTRY AND ITS FINANCIAL INTEGRITY, 2 Corinthians 8:1-9:15

Begging to Be a Blessing

2 Corinthians 8:1-5 \(NASB\)

¹“Now, brethren, we wish to make known to you the grace of God which has been given in the churches of Macedonia,
²that in a great ordeal of affliction their abundance of joy and their deep poverty overflowed in the wealth of their liberality.
³For I testify that according to their ability, and beyond their ability, they gave of their own accord,
⁴begging us with much urging for the favor of participation in the support of the saints,
⁵and this, not as we had expected, but they first gave themselves to the Lord and to us by the will of God.”

A. The Challenge to Give, 2 Corinthians 8:1-15

\(2 Corinthians 8:1-15\) Introduction: the churches throughout Judea were suffering great poverty and needed help badly. This is what this passage is about: meeting the desperate need of fellow believers and human beings who were being threatened with starvation and death, many of whom were without Christ and doomed to an eternity apart from Christ.

The need of missions is an unending call, a call that never ends. The desperate needs of the world must always confront man. Why? Because the world is sinful and corruptible, full of greed and covetousness, banking and hoarding. People who have more than they need should be helping and giving, serving and ministering. Instead they are banking and hoarding. The result is a world reeling in desperate need. The challenge to the church is clear! Give—give all you are and have to reach and help the desperate of the world.

- 1. Know the spirit of the Macedonians: they gave because of the grace and favor of God (v.1-5).
- 2. Excel in the same spirit of giving (v.6-7).
- 3. Prove the sincerity of your love (v.8).
- 4. Know the example of Christ—He gave (v.9).
- 5. Remember your own past record (v.10).
- 6. Give readily and willingly (v.11-12).
- 7. Meet the needs of one another—equally (v.13-15).

1. (2 Corinthians 8:1-5) Stewardship— Giving— Offerings: the first challenge is to know the spirit of the Macedonians.

Giving Is Voluntary

2 Corinthians 8:3 (NASB)

³“For “I testify” [martureō] that according to their “ability” [Dunamis], and beyond their ability, “they gave of their own accord” [Authairetos].”

From this earliest period of human history an important principle emerges: Freewill giving is to the Lord; required giving is to the government.

The period from Moses to Jesus, when the Law was in force, also saw freewill and required giving. According to Leviticus 27:30-32 the tithe, or tenth part, belonged to the Lord.

Leviticus 27:30-32 (NASB)

³⁰“Thus all the tithe of the land, of the seed of the land or of the fruit of the tree, is the LORD’S; it is holy to the LORD.

³¹ If, therefore, a man wishes to redeem part of his tithe, he shall add to it one-fifth of it.

³² For every tenth part of herd or flock, whatever passes under the rod, the tenth one shall be holy to the LORD.”

In contrast to the tithes given by Abraham and Jacob, this tithe was required giving (since it already belonged to the Lord; cf. Malachi 3:8), not a voluntary offering.

Malachi 3:8 (NASB)

⁸“Will a man rob God? Yet you are robbing Me! But you say, ‘How have we robbed You?’ In tithes and offerings.”

Numbers 18:21 and 24 reveal that the tithe was given to support the Levites in their priestly service to the Lord.

Numbers 18:21 (NASB)

²¹“To the sons of Levi, behold, I have given all the tithe in Israel for an inheritance, in return for their service which they perform, the service of the tent of meeting.”

Numbers 18:24 (NASB)

²⁴“For the tithe of the sons of Israel, which they offer as an offering to the LORD, I have given to the Levites for an inheritance; therefore I have said concerning them, ‘They shall have no inheritance among the sons of Israel.’”

Since Israel was a theocracy, the Levites, especially in the days before the monarchy, constituted Israel’s government. The tithe was therefore a form of taxation.

In addition, the Israelites had to pay a second tithe to fund the religious festivals (Deuteronomy 12:10-11, 17- 18).

Deuteronomy 12:10-11 (NASB)

¹⁰ “When you cross the Jordan and live in the land which the LORD your God is giving you to inherit, and He gives you rest from all your enemies around you so that you live in security,

¹¹ then it shall come about that the place in which the LORD your God will choose for His name to dwell, there you shall bring all that I command you: your burnt offerings and your sacrifices, your tithes and the contribution of your hand, and all your choice votive offerings which you will vow to the LORD.”

Deuteronomy 12:17-18 (NASB)

¹⁷ “You are not allowed to eat within your gates the tithe of your grain or new wine or oil, or the firstborn of your herd or flock, or any of your votive offerings which you vow, or your freewill offerings, or the contribution of your hand.”

¹⁸ “But you shall eat them before the LORD your God in the place which the LORD your God will choose, you and your son and daughter, and your male and female servants, and the Levite who is within your gates; and you shall rejoice before the LORD your God in all your undertakings.”

A third tithe, due every third year, went to support the poor (Deuteronomy 14:28-29).

Deuteronomy 14:28-29 (NASB)

²⁸ “At the end of every third year you shall bring out all the tithe of your produce in that year, and shall deposit it in your town.”

²⁹ “The Levite, because he has no portion or inheritance among you, and the alien, the orphan and the widow who are in your town, shall come and eat and be satisfied, in order that the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hand which you do.”

Thus, required giving, or taxation, during the Mosaic era amounted to at least 23-and-a-third percent, and perhaps as much as 25 percent when various other required offerings are taken into account (cf. Leviticus 19:9-10; Nehemiah 10:32-33).

Leviticus 19:9-10 (NASB)

⁹ “Now when you reap the harvest of your land, you shall not reap to the very corners of your field, nor shall you gather the gleanings of your harvest.”

¹⁰ “Nor shall you glean your vineyard, nor shall you gather the fallen fruit of your vineyard; you shall leave them for the needy and for the stranger. I am the LORD your God.”

Nehemiah 10:32-33 (NASB)

³² “We also placed ourselves under obligation to contribute yearly one third of a shekel for the service of the house of our God:

33 for the showbread, for the continual grain offering, for the continual burnt offering, the sabbaths, the new moon, for the appointed times, for the holy things and for the sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and all the work of the house of our God.”

Voluntary or freewill offerings were also given during this period. During the building of the tabernacle, for example, “¹The Lord spoke to Moses, saying, ²Tell the sons of Israel to raise a contribution for Me; from every man whose heart moves him you shall raise My contribution” (Exodus 25:1-2).

In contrast to the required giving, this offering was strictly voluntary. It was to be collected “from every man whose heart move[d] him [to give].” Similarly, the people of Israel later gave freely to provide the resources to build the temple (1 Chronicles 29:1-9).

1 Chronicles 29:1-9 (NASB)

¹“Then King David said to the entire assembly, “My son Solomon, whom alone God has chosen, is still young and inexperienced and the work is great; for the temple is not for man, but for the LORD God.”

²“Now with all my ability I have provided for the house of my God the gold for the things of gold, and the silver for the things of silver, and the bronze for the things of bronze, the iron for the things of iron, and wood for the things of wood, onyx stones and inlaid stones, stones of antimony and stones of various colors, and all kinds of precious stones and alabaster in abundance.”

³“Moreover, in my delight in the house of my God, the treasure I have of gold and silver, I give to the house of my God, over and above all that I have already provided for the holy temple,

⁴*namely*, 3,000 talents of gold, of the gold of Ophir, and 7,000 talents of refined silver, to overlay the walls of the buildings;

⁵of gold for the things of gold and of silver for the things of silver, that is, for all the work done by the craftsmen. Who then is willing to consecrate himself this day to the LORD?”

⁶Then the rulers of the fathers’ households, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, with the overseers over the king’s work, offered willingly;

⁷and for the service for the house of God they gave 5,000 talents and 10,000 darics of gold, and 10,000 talents of silver, and 18,000 talents of brass, and 100,000 talents of iron.

⁸Whoever possessed precious stones gave them to the treasury of the house of the LORD, in care of Jehiel the Gershonite.

⁹Then the people rejoiced because they had offered so willingly, for they made their offering to the LORD with a whole heart, and King David also rejoiced greatly.”

Like the pre-Mosaic era and the era of the Law, the New Testament also depicts both freewill and required giving. It teaches, both by precept and example, which taxes (required giving) are to be paid to governments. In addition to the taxes they paid to support the theocracy, the Israelites also had to pay taxes to their Roman overlords—a heavy burden that they deeply resented. But instead of instigating a tax revolt, the Lord Jesus Christ paid His taxes:

Matthew 17:24-27 (NASB)

²⁴ “When they came to Capernaum, those who collected the two-drachma tax came to Peter and said, “Does your teacher not pay the two-drachma tax?”

²⁵ He said, “Yes.” And when he came into the house, Jesus spoke to him first, saying, “What do you think, Simon? From whom do the kings of the earth collect customs or poll-tax, from their sons or from strangers?”

²⁶ When Peter said, “From strangers,” Jesus said to him, “Then the sons are exempt.”

²⁷ “However, so that we do not offend them, go to the sea and throw in a hook, and take the first fish that comes up; and when you open its mouth, you will find a shekel. Take that and give it to them for you and Me.”

Though as God’s Son He was exempt from the temple tax, Jesus nonetheless paid it. Nor did He criticize the Pharisees for paying their tithes (Matthew 23:23), but rather for ignoring the more important aspects of the Mosaic Law.

Matthew 23:23 (NASB)

²³ “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint and dill and cummin, and have neglected the weightier provisions of the law: justice and mercy and faithfulness; but these are the things you should have done without neglecting the others.”

Jesus also taught that taxes were to be paid even to the hated Romans:

Matthew 22:15-21 (NASB)

¹⁵ “Then the Pharisees went and plotted together how they might trap Him in what He said.

¹⁶ And they sent their disciples to Him, along with the Herodians, saying, “Teacher, we know that You are truthful and teach the way of God in truth, and defer to no one; for You are not partial to any.”

¹⁷ “Tell us then, what do You think? Is it lawful to give a poll-tax to Caesar, or not?”

¹⁸ But Jesus perceived their malice, and said, “Why are you testing Me, you hypocrites?”

¹⁹ “Show Me the coin used for the poll-tax.” And they brought Him a denarius.

²⁰ And He said to them, “Whose likeness and inscription is this?”

²¹ They “said to Him, “Caesar’s.” Then He said to them, “Then render to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s; and to God the things that are God’s.”

To pay taxes is to “render to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s,” and is not optional. Even though governments today are secular, not theocracies, they are still established by God (Romans 13:1), and the taxes they impose are to be paid (Romans 13:6-7).

Romans 13:1 (NASB)

¹“Every person is to be in subjection to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those which exist are established by God.”

Romans 13:6-7 (NASB)

⁶“For because of this you also pay taxes, for rulers are servants of God, devoting themselves to this very thing.

⁷Render to all what is due them: tax to whom tax is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor.”

The New Testament also speaks of freewill giving; as noted above, the Macedonians and Corinthians were not compelled to give. The amount a believer gives is personally determined: “Each one must do just as he has purposed in his heart, not grudgingly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver” (2 Corinthians 9:7; cf. the example of Zaccheus [Luke 19:8]).

Luke 19:8 (NASB)

⁸“Zaccheus stopped and said to the Lord, “Behold, Lord, half of my possessions I will give to the poor, and if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I will give back four times as much.”

Believers are not to base their giving on the Old Testament principle of tithing but on the example of the Lord Jesus Christ, who “though He was rich, yet for [their sakes] He became poor, so that [they] through His poverty might become rich” (2 Cor. 8:9). (For a further discussion of tithing, see John MacArthur, Whose Money Is It, Anyway? [Nashville: Word, 2000].)
